- high volume - I would have wanted to have additional web resources recommended to learn more about MS Excel or MS Word. During one quiz, there was a question that asked for an Excel formula that had not been covered by lecture or by the GCFlearnfree assignments. If this formula had been covered in a lecture or by one of the assigned sections, I would not have failed the third Excel quiz. I can think of few ways that I could have acquired this particular skill on my own. - Too much work and grading is too hard - While this course was extremely challenging, Dr. Garrett was enthusiastic about teaching the material and had a real interest in making sure the students understood the material. On top of that, Dr. Garrett made the course interesting and fun with the Capsim simulation.

- I would encourage Dr. Garrett to slow down. He speaks very fast and it can be very difficult to take notes. Additionally, I would recommend that the outcomes not only provide an outline for the week but definitions of key words or topics. - Sometimes, speedy lecture but his attention to individual students makes up for it - Talks too fast

- I would have appreciated more hands on in the classroom, especially excel, It seems that I lost control during exams but when invested time preparing for exams at home I was able to figure things out,

- Sans Dhiman, Garrett is the best instructor I've had at Woodbury!

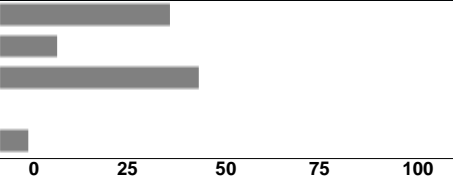

11 - Overall, this instructor is very good

- heavy but it seems to give a student a lot of overall understanding and the tools to look for specifics if need be
- Lots of reading , would say extremely crunched course

13 - Do you have any other recommendations?
Return Rate	10/20 (50%)
- He is a good professor. - He knows his stuff. - I highly recommend that the class incorporate more software that we should use as MBA students such as Excel and Project. The excel was difficult but very helpful. Also, to create a consistent learning environment if the classes that involve excel can be held in a computer lab so that we all have the same computer & version of the software. It would have been nice if one of our assignments was to create our on personal website using 1 of the many free sites. Also, most of the graded course was completed at the end of the session, which is a bit hectic. The ideal situation for me would be to have assignments dispersed as evenly as possible over a 7 week period. Overall, The class was good. Dr. Garrett did a great job of identifying all aspects of business as it relates to IT. - I recommend doing more do-it-yourself assignments. The Excel assignments and exams were by far the most useful thing I've learned in the whole program. The in class group work was also very beneficial. Overall, the instruction and lecture was well done. - I recommend this class in the MBA overall IT concepts class...as long as we are not graded based on detailed functions of excel. - More focus on real life examples & group projects recommended. Found the course extremely challenging due to new terms of Information Technology, 20 hours a week outside of class study "Mandatory". - Please give grade exams before the next class session. It's a tough feeling when your one week from completing the course and I'm unsure of what my grade will is. - Professor is very knowledgeable of the material and explains material in detail. However, there are moments when the amount of information is overwhelming, but otherwise very informative class. - Teach more about IT. - The professor taught very well. The compartmentalized form of testing allowed for the students to excel at each subject. The agenda was very clear for the class. Professor presented a new dynamic method of feedback by recording presentations. The opportunity to see oneself on playback provides a unique opportunity to see ourselves from the perspective of the audience and make appropriate adjustments. I highly recommend the professor to all future students.
