Dr. Garrett, PLEASE provide more than one week for large assignments (papers & presentations). Some of us have other things going on besides school and would greatly appreciate it if you could allow us to have more than one week to prepare for those assignments and be able to plan accordingly.

Overall, this is genuinely the most interesting class I have had at Woodbury so far. Because of it, I would consider having an IT concentration - instead of management - if I could take more classes from this professor next Spring and Summer.

Excellent professor, excellent class. Really able to apply the idea's reviewed in class to my own job and company.

The instructor is very educative.

Thanks for everything. I am sad that this class is almost over. I recommend Nathan to teach another class on IT that can go into some of the programs that were discussed in the class. It would also be nice to go over more on how IT and business work together in synergy. Also if low cost IT solutions for the workplace. Thanks again for everything. I have learned a lot.

I think the class good. The only have one recommendation and that is: better guidelines to projects I was not sure what he wanted from the projects. Felt very frustrated at times because I was not sure that I was doing the assignments correctly.

Dr. Nathan Garrett provides an extensive list of resources and ideas used by corporations that I have experienced before but never noticed, he opened my mind to see what is around me and made think on a different level. I appreciate all the effort he provided to us and thank him for listening to me and all the classmates.
once again thank you Dr. Garrett and see you around

I would consider changing the "course name." I don't feel it does it justice. Prior to taking the class, my interest was very low because of the course name. After class began, wow the class is amazing. You learn so much in the importance IT plays in day to day business. I honestly feel the course name doesn't do it justice at first.

Reading materials should be more up-to-date. Reading material is in average 8 years old. Instead of quizzes, case studies would be more challenging!

Dr Garrett is devoted to the teaching of the material to his courses in a very dedicated fashion, and as such, his dedication shows through his teaching the core material as he does it so well! Only recommendation to the school is for them to hire a greater number of professors such as the likes of Dr Garrett!

The amount of students in the class was quite large. As a result, it was difficult for us to have small class discussions regarding the reading material. It also affected the presentation time allotted for class presentations.

Prof. Garrett is a very good instructor and very enthusiastic about the material he teaches. I learned a lot from this course. He is a very fair person and very knowledgeable about what he teaches. As a person, he is a real nice person all around.

I think that IT as a topic in general is a huge topic to be teaching in a seven week course, and it must be a very difficult for him to pick the specific topics to discuss in the course, out of an enormous amount of IT topics and material. Maybe he could pick a few specific IT topics & cover them in more detail, and just mention the rest, and include more description, and provide a sort of road map approach in the syllabus.
